V 1.0

This year will be introduced the SRO Esports Sim Pro Series, a new on-site invitational series for top sim driving team that will follow the GTWC EU Endurance Cup rounds.

The Intercontinental GT Challenge Esports powered by Mobileye returns for its second season as the only official Endurance Series for SRO Esports and the Sprint Series will return to being region locked unlike last season.

Drivers and Teams competing in the Pro class will be determined by the Organiser, Pro & Silver Teams will be required to qualify for the Series via qualification. Silver Teams may request promotion to Pro class.

The Sprint races for Europe and Asia be on Wednesdays as they were last season, the Sprint races for America will be on Saturday as they were last season and the IGTCE series will also run on weekends.

Entry fees added for the Sprint Series in America & Asia to increase the Prize Pool. Europe Sprint & IGTCE entry fees will be the same as last year. Bigger focus on cash prizes this season.

New BoP development, Teams to nominate 1 Driver to be a Test Driver, OEM given the possibility to nominate an additional driver but not required. Results & Analysis is shared publicly for all competitors to review changes.

Introduction of a new License Point system to encourage better driving standards and punish those who consistently cause incidents with additional penalties, race suspensions or championship disqualification.

- Teams competing in the championship nominate a Driver to test the BoP, OEM Teams may nominate an additional Driver if they would like to but is not mandatory.
- Test Drivers may drive any car on the BoP Testing Server, the Driver does not need to be competing in the championship to allow for Drivers in the championship to focus on the Series.
- BoP Testing Server opens 3 weeks before the Race and is open for 1 week, afterwards the Drivers will send us feedback on the results and can attend a non-mandatory Test Race if desired.
- Once the data has been collected it will be compared to the original proposal by the Organiser and the BoP will be adjusted based on the results of the Testing Server and Driver's feedback.
- The data collected will be publicly available for Drivers & Teams so that when changes are made to the original proposal they understand why. Once changes are made the BoP is final.
